

support thought radio

kuhf houston public radio

news & information

classical music & fine arts

kuhf programs

The Front Row, Monday, 4/21/2008

listen to kuhf

- > listen online
- > station schedule
- > on-air playlists
- > about HD digital radio

kuhf news & information

- > local news
- > local weather
- > local traffic
- > business news
- > national news
- > search news archive
- > engines of our ingenuity
- > this i believe
- > UH moment

kuhf fine arts & events

- > fine arts
- > the front row
- > music from the movies
- > pulling strings
- > houston symphony
- > arts calendar
- > arts tours
- > spring '09 arts tour blog

support kuhf

- > ways to give
- > underwriting
- > for members
- > matching gift search
- > volunteer

about kuhf

- > about us
- > contact us
- > employment
- > mission statement
- > staff directory
- > photo album

Google™ Custom Search

Robert Hass reads from and discusses his latest collection, Time and Materials. It's the book that won this year's Pulitzer Prize for Poetry. We also have a visit from Roger Keele and members of the Houston Symphony as they preview the music on the next St. Cecilia Chamber Music recital at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church...

> click here to listen

Roger Keele has is the curator of the next concert for the St. Cecilia Chamber Music Society. It features Strings and Winds: French and American Music for Harp, Flute, Clarinet and Strings. Keele and his fellow performers gather in the KUHf Performance Studio for a preview. Listen. Download.

Zoe Crosher is the photographer who's year-long project One Year Later is the subject of a FotoFest exhibition at DiverseWorks. It's on view through this weekend at 1117 East Freeway. She talks about her work with KUHf's Meghan Hendley. Listen. Download. **Extended Version****

Robert Hass is the former US Poet Laureate who is the recipient of the 2008 Pulitzer Prize for Poetry. He is in Houston for a reading on the Imprint-Brown Reading Series. He reads from his work and talks about it with KUHf's St. John Flynn. Listen. Download.

> view printer-friendly version

> return to previous page

Listener-Supported Radio from the University of Houston

